Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my interest in IT opportunities within your organisation. As a Bachelor of Information Technology graduate from Federation University Australia, I bring a solid foundation in software development, web development, databases, cloud security and data analytics, along with practical project and work experience.

In my capstone project, I was the Scrum Master for the Reading Teacher's Vocabulary Visualiser (RTVV), a Flutter-based Android application that uses OCR to help teachers analyse vocabulary in children's picture books. Working in a team of five, I coordinated sprints, managed Jira workflows, contributed to testing across each release and worked directly with our clients to gather feedback. We delivered the app over five versions and handed over the final release and documentation to our clients, who were happy with the result. The project strengthened my leadership, communication and technical skills, and gave me hands-on experience with Agile practices, GitHub and user testing.

Alongside my studies, I works as a Store Assistant Manager at Bostini Italian Restaurant, serving 100+ customers per day, and I also work in a production team at Prima PMI that produces 3,000+ photobooks per day to meet vendor orders. These roles have taught me reliability, attention to detail, time management and how to solve problems calmly in fast-paced environments, qualities I am eager to bring to a technical team.

I am passionate about continuous learning and keen to grow in cybersecurity, data analytics and cloud technologies. I am confident that my technical skills, project experience and commitment to quality would allow me to make a meaningful contribution to your organisation.

Thank you for considering my application. I would appreciate the opportunity to discuss how my skills and experience align with your goals.

Best Regards,
Basil Chelackal Jameskutty
